

Dress Up Day Slide Show

Biography Book Reports

Benjamin Franklin

Bill Gates

Davy Crockett

Harry Houdini

Dress-Up Day

Name: _____

Title of Biography: _____

Approved: _____

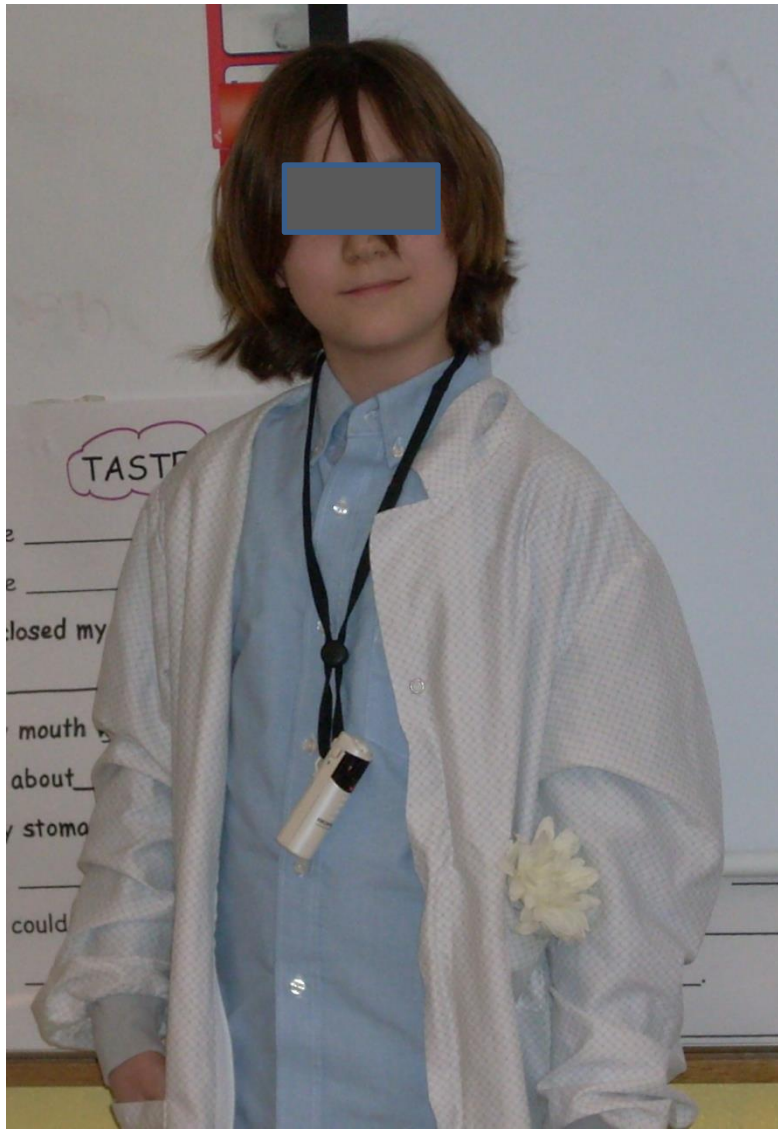

Due Date: _____

YOU ARE A V.I.P., (very important person). Your biography has just been published and people are anxious to interview "you". Please be prepared to answer their many questions. Have fun...don't be nervous!

Directions:

1. Choose a biography and have it approved by your teacher.
2. As you read, record interesting information on the back of this page.
3. NEXT, make careful notes on index cards for your presentation.
4. Choose a costume that your character would wear, OR design a large, colorful, and detailed poster of your character.
5. Review your notes. There is NO NEED TO MEMORIZE a script, but you SHOULD KNOW your character well enough to speak to your audience for about 4-5 minutes and to answer interview questions using only your notes.

REMARKABLE WRITER JEFF KINNEY

Jeff Kinney, his wife and two

Plainville

In 1987 Jeff came up with an idea for Wimpy Kid, a school about a middle-aged boy named Greg Heffley. He wanted to get his book published for years before it was published to a publisher in New York.

Information for Wimpy Kid.com
Author: Jeff Kinney

Jeff didn't want to be a children's author, instead he wanted to be a newspaper writer.

Written by:
Christine Webster

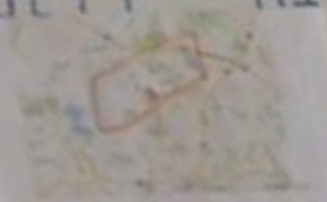

REMARKABLE WRITER JEFF KINNEY

Interview in the "Young Readers" section of Rolling Stone

...the author of the wildly popular Diary of a Wimpy Kid series...

Written by Christine Webster

Jeff Kinney lives in this neighborhood

Plainville

Rehoboth

Rehoboth School

the
I felt th

